Platanus x acerifolia

- 🍃 Form: Upright Pyramidal
- 🍃 Size: 60' tall by 45' wide
- 🍃 Growth Rate: Fast
- 🍃 Zone: 4-8
- 🍃 Drought Tolerance: High
- 🍃 Salt Tolerance: Moderate

Light Requirements: Full sun

Soil Requirements: Moist, deep, rich well-drained soil in full sun but does not tolerate shady sites

Bark: Smooth gray-brown bark peels away to reveal shades of white, gray, and green underneath. The bark has beautiful, marbled colors that stand out in the barren winter landscape

Flower: The flower blooms in early spring, typically around the month of April. There are separate male and female flowers usually two per stalk, the male flowers are green, white the female flowers are bright deep red. Not showy.

Fruit: Green spherical ball filled with tightly packed seeds in a capsule

Foliage: Leathery leaves are about 6" to 7" with roughly toothed edges. Medium to dark green on top, with a paler green underneath where the sunlight does not hit. In the fall these leaves become a yellow or brown color.
